The Honorable Albert Bryan Jr.
Governor of the U.S. Virgin Islands
5047 (21-22) Kongens Gade,
St. Thomas, VI 00802-6487

Dear Governor Bryan,

As I am certain you are aware, several organizations and media outlets have been advocating national voting rights for territories. There is a case pending before the 10th Circuit Court of Appeals, Fitisemanu v. United States, which, as a precursor to national voting rights, would impose U.S. citizenship on American Samoa, where most of our people are U.S. Nationals. I am writing you today to advise you that the majority of our people prefer to maintain our status as Nationals and ask that you not support any efforts to impose citizenship on us by court fiat.

When approached by one group to support the plaintiffs in this court case, Guam Governor Leon Guerrero declined to insert herself in an issue that has nothing to do with Guam. I sincerely appeal to you to follow her example, because as she recognized, this is a fundamental issue of self-determination. My administration as well as that of my predecessor and our congresswoman as well as her predecessor have joined the federal government in opposing the Fitisemanu case being considered by the Denver court.

To be clear, that court case seeks to usurp the power of Congress and asks the court to unilaterally declare all U.S. Nationals to be U.S. Citizens regardless of where they reside or whether or not they have sought citizenship. In an almost identical case, the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals already ruled favorably for us on this same issue, and the Supreme Court declined to consider it further. Regrettably, the District Court that heard the Fitisemanu case ignored this precedent.

If the 10th Circuit were to uphold the Utah District Court, it would set a precedent that would be dangerous to all the territories by diminishing the power of Congress –where we all are represented– to determine the status of territories as provided by the U.S. Constitution. Congress in the past has statutorily considered and passed legislation to grant citizenship to the other territories with input from those territories and has sought the views and consent of the people residing there, but that would not be the case here.

The Honorable Albert Bryan Jr.

American Samoa asks only for that same consideration. We have indicated to the Court that it is American Samoa's preference to determine for ourselves the question of citizenship and leave it to Congress in consultation with us to determine such basic rights.

Our forebears negotiated an agreement with the United States that protects our lands and customs that we have found satisfactory to date and which we wish to continue until such time as the people who live here feel differently.

Therefore, I once again ask you to rebuff any entreaties for you to support "equality" for territorial voters if it violates our passionate devotion to self-determination. I believe that the issues confronting Nationals in Utah can best be resolved by passage of H.R. 1941, which would expedite reclassification of national to citizen to anyone who chooses it, and I am pleased that many of the territorial Members of the U.S. House of Representatives have already cosponsored our congresswoman's bill. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
